Passavant celebrating 135 years in 2010

This year marks the 135th anniversary of Reverend William Passavant’s founding of Passavant Area Hospital.

The story of Passavant started in 1868 when Mrs. Eliza Ayers, a widow from Jacksonville, wrote to Reverend Passavant, a Lutheran minister that had a national reputation for creating hospitals and orphanages, about donating a valuable block of five acres on the city’s leading street. Although it took seven years of searching to find the right solution, Eliza gave the property to Reverend Passavant in 1875, and Jacksonville Hospital (now Passavant Hospital) was built on East State Street. It was the 149th hospital in the United States. Passavant’s present location opened as a 140-bed facility in 1953.

Look for the above 135th anniversary logo in print ads and on banners during the year.

Emergency Department (E.D.) Expansion project continues towards summer opening of new E.D.

The Emergency Department (ED) is moving into a new and much larger home early this summer.

Physicians, nurses, paramedics, and support staff will provide healthcare in a new department with over 25,000 square feet. The Emergency Department Expansion project includes 22 patient treatment rooms, two trauma rooms with dedicated wireless imaging units, and a dedicated CT scan for the Department. The patient rooms will surround a large nurses station and other work stations for imaging and medication distribution. The lower level will serve as storage, plus give more space to the Storeroom and to Health Information Management.

“Currently, the workers are progressing on the painting, ceiling, and flooring of the patient exam rooms and the nurses station in the ED. In addition, they’re working on the cabling for data and telephones and on the temperature controls,” said Phil Benz, Director of Plant Engineering.

The new CT unit is being installed in the next renovation phase later this summer. Once the new ED is occupied, work transitions to renovating the existing ED. During renovation, Outpatient will share space with ED.

To keep current on the project, visit the hospital’s web site, www.passavanthospital.com, and click on the ED Expansion banner.

The exterior of the new Emergency Department has taken shape. Landscaping and other exterior finishing work will be finished when warmer weather arrives.
Beardstown Healthcare Complex donates to Lifeline

Ross Houston, representing the Beardstown Healthcare Complex Foundation, presents a $9,000 check to Diana Olinger, Director of Fund Development, left, and to Jan Fellhauer, Director of Volunteers/Lifeline. The funds are being used to upgrade Lifeline units in Cass County.

Pediatrics receives new DVDs and cabinet

A storage cabinet and 16 new DVDs were given to the Pediatrics Department by John, Sherrie and Alissa Taylor in memory of Lindsay Beth Taylor. Emily Douglas, left, and Barb Surratt, Pediatrics, work on organizing the DVDs and other video games.

Cardiac Pulmonary Rehabilitation adds equipment

Jerry Bieller, left, works out on the new recumbent bicycle, while Lloyd Slagle adds to his mileage on the new treadmill.

Thank you to Nadine Lounsberry for two new pieces of equipment for the Cardiac Pulmonary Rehabilitation Unit. Mrs. Lounsberry donated funds to purchase a new recumbent bicycle and a treadmill.

"We appreciate having new, state-of-the-art equipment donated to our Unit," said Patti Quigg, Nurse Manager.

Mrs. Lounsberry donated the funds in August 2009. Sadly, she died on December 19 at the age of 98. She also bequeathed $25,000 to Passavant’s Coronary Care Unit. We extend our sympathy to her niece, Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas.

Hyperbaric Medicine off to positive start

Carrie Carls, left, Nursing Director, provides a bottled water to a hyperbaric patient prior to a treatment session in the hospital’s new multi-chamber hyperbaric oxygen therapy chamber. The chamber opened in November and can accommodate up to nine patients during a session. Located in a stand-alone building just north of the Rehabilitation Services entrance, the chamber exposes the body to 100 percent oxygen in a pressurized environment. This prescription of high-flow, pressurized oxygen, known as Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy or HBOT, allows for a higher concentration of oxygen to reach the tissues of the body. This form of treatment is very beneficial in specific problem wounds that do not have adequate blood flow. "Patients have responded favorably to the hyperbaric treatment environment. They seem to enjoy the socialization they have with other patients and are excited to be seeing wound healing progress," said Carrie.

Shoppers packed the Main Lobby during the opening hour of the 2009 Auxiliary Bazaar, Friday, November 13. Proceeds from the event are being used to purchase items for the new Emergency Department.

Pauline Rexroat, left, and Mary Francis Fortado, donated a new television to the waiting room on the second floor in memory of their brother, Donald Saunderson. Pauline’s husband, George, was not available for the photograph.
We want to thank those who support the hospital in its continued pursuit of excellence. Many of these people are recognized on plaques throughout the hospital, and it is a privilege to honor those individuals and organizations listed from whom we received gifts from July 1, 2009 to December 31, 2009. The memorials listed in this issue of Cornerstone are also listed in a Memorial Book located on the First Floor at Passavant Area Hospital.

One of the nicest things a person can do is to make a gift in memory of someone. A donor tribute envelope is included in each newsletter. If you have given recently, or cannot help at this time, please tuck the envelope away and help us some time in the future. Whether it’s a $10 or $1,000 gift, it will ensure the care of patients today and in generations to come.

Sincerely,

Diana H. Olinger
Director of Fund Development

An ornament search
Imogene Lovekamp and her daughter, Carol Squibb (partially hidden) search for names on the ornaments on the Passavant Memorial Christmas Tree following the special service December 12 in the Main Lobby. Gift tags were purchased for $10 each and placed on an ornament on the Tree in the Main Lobby. The tags were in memory of a loved one or in honor of a family member. Each year, proceeds benefit the Chaplain’s Assistance Fund. The 2009 event raised $1,700.

Tribute Garden donors
Special thanks to those names listed below that ordered bricks for the Tribute Garden in honor of or in memory of a loved one or friend between August 2009 – January 2010:

In memory of Catherine Boston: Jan Fellhauer and Volunteer Department

In memory of Bradley Schone: Sandra Winner

In memory of Bill Mitchell: George Bowen, Dennis Doyle, DC, and Robert Weidenman

In memory of Gladys and Mildred Mills: Dr. Donald Kolmer

In memory of H. Wayne Carr: Jan C. Smith

In memory of Matt and Jan Smith

In memory of Mary A. Fuelling: Volunteer Department/Imaging

In memory of Danny and Carol Westnedge: Carol Cook

In memory of C. June Vickers: James H. Vickers

In memory of Nadine Lounsberry: Fund Development Office

Tribute Garden service
Reverend Patsy Kelly, Director of Pastoral Care, speaks to family members and friends during the annual Tribute Garden Service September 12. Chester A. Wynn, President & CEO, seated, also spoke during the Service. The names on engraved bricks added to the Tribute Garden during the past year were read as part of the Service.
